DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM

Lesson Text—2 Sam. 6:1-15; 7:1-17

The first book of Samuel records David's life to the close of the period of special discipline...

We have seen that as he was led forward step by step, he had constantly refused to take the slings of his career into his own hands...

The second book of Samuel, upon which we are now entering, gives us the history of David's coming into power...

It is noteworthy that although David had God's warrant for the kingdom, he would not move from Ziklag without getting his marching orders from the Lord...

But also that those who had stood by David in his days of humiliation were now to be with him in his days of exaltation...

The men of Judah came and officially acknowledged David as their King (2 Sam. 19:11)...

1 Chron. 12:23-40 tells us that no less than 200,000 men gathered in consultation to express their desire of national unity...

Let us not miss the lesson that without advantage of birth, without personal scheming or violence...

The great essential was the resurrection of the Ark of the covenant to a fitting place...

remained at Kirjathjearim, several miles from Jerusalem. To Jerusalem, which was henceforth to become the royal as well as the holy city, the ark must be brought...

Many another nation has had to learn through bitter experience that it is the recognition of God and regard to religious duty which alone can give value to other reforms...

Was it not to be expected that the devil would be on the job to cause some slip-up in so important a proceeding?

Times had changed; why not transport it on a cart? A new cart was made, and hitched to it was a team of oxen, driven by Ahimael's sons...

To begin with, they had disregarded the Word of God, and, like many a modern church, introduced heathen methods into the doing of God's work...

David, true to human nature, was both afraid and displeased that God had made the great occasion a failure...

David came to his senses. We know the world. A true Christian will not long remain deceived, but still, like David, frankly admit his error and repair it as quickly as possible...

The outstanding lesson is that God's Word and work cannot be safely tampered with. We cannot handle the Ark of God as though it were a bag of food...

The only way to walk with the Lord is to talk with the Lord (2:1). We will see further ahead whom we go ahead as far as we see (2:13).

God will have His own way with His own work—not the Philistine way (6:13). Trying to make God's work more on a heathen cart is modern folly.

Those who fall in their unimportant service are sure to be pleased with God. God pays liberally for His lodging (9:11).

The arm of the flesh is not needed to sustain the ark of the Lord (SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS).

If we are to have God's direction of our paths, what must we do? (5:1, 6:1, Prov. 3:5-6). Who, long before David, had sanctified Hebron, by fellowship with the Lord? (Gen. 12:18).

upon a church where ritual methods are employed? (1 Cor. 11:23-27).

GOLDEN TEXT ILLUSTRATION: We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple. (Psa. 65:4).

A lady was once speaking in a gathering of friends, of the pleasures of attending the theatre. There was the pleasure of thinking of the scenes to be acted before going. There was the pleasure of witnessing them when there. There was the pleasure of remembering them after they were over.

Hindenburg Near Eightieth Birthday Starts Day with Newspapers

AGED PRESIDENT OF GERMANY MAINTAINS REGULAR SCHEDULE OF STATE AFFAIRS.

BERLIN, July 27.—October 2nd will bring the eightieth birthday of President Paul von Hindenburg of Germany.

It is an age when most men would feel that they have a right to rest from the labors of an arduous and strenuous life, but there is no rest for the venerable field marshal.

The president's day proceeds according to a carefully arranged schedule. He rises at 6 o'clock, and is ready at 7 o'clock for breakfast, which consists of coffee, rolls, and perhaps jam.

At 8 o'clock President von Hindenburg takes a walk in the beautiful park in the rear of the executive mansion, which is situated in the famous "Wilhelmstrasse."

The official day begins at 9:30. It is marked by an almost steady stream of callers—ministers, heads of government departments, diplomats, members of special delegations, etc.

Melneser also reads President von Hindenburg's daily correspondence. On the average 300 letters are received every day, as compared with an average of 100 received by President Ebert.

After political matters have been disposed of with Melneser, Hindenburg receives the chief of the press department, Dr. Walter Zechlin, who reports concerning the editorial comments of not merely the German, but also the foreign press.

AIMS OF THE MODERN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It is the very essence of the American form of government that we shall have, as Lincoln phrased it, a government of and by the people.

The modern chamber of commerce has been developed to meet this need. It is a forum for public discussion, and for the crystallization of public sentiment.

—from the presidential address of Martin A. Loomis before the 1927 annual meeting of the Washington (D. C.) Chamber of Commerce.

and when his awakening comes the stories of the spiritual world are unfolded as he can grasp them.

The Letter Box

Editor, The Tribune:

It is known that the land south of St. Cloud railroad station is owned by private individuals since some of whom are pleased to think that this land owner can be identified—now the woman who are anxious to see blooming plants at the station know that any time some of these lots along Tenth street between New York Avenue and Pennsylvania Avenue may be sold but they think that if for one season the returning of new tourists see stately palaces or flaming hibiscus as they leave the train it will seem like a cheerful welcome to a land of sunshine.

Many other shrubs can be in bloom here if people will give some rooted plants—of course, it will be hard to keep slips wet enough to insure growth after the rain comes, therefore growing plants are desired as soon as possible.

As one can not be sure of the future of this tract of land—quick beautification is what is needed—not scientific artistic arrangement. But if any one will set a plant that will soon bloom or a little later—the addition to this dreary space will be pleasing.

The window boxes secured by the Woman's Club are an excellent improvement.

The loyal Legion picnic to county friends at Blain Beach near Pisky Villa, Fla., was a charming success.

There were bathing contests, speeches, singing and a nice program by youngsters from Kissimmee, who came in a truck with ice cream, beer for the water from the flowing well and chairs for weary individuals.

Food was plenty and of great variety. It was the anniversary of Anna Gordon's birthday—she turns the L. L. and was president of the National W. C. T. U. many years. Miss Gordon traveled with Miss Francis Willard as secretary for years.

It was voted to make this celebration an annual event and three cheers were given Mrs. Boyer for a pleasant picnic party.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour, of Minnesota Avenue, have remodelled their home very pleasingly.

Capt Crawford is in charge of a yacht at New York. His son, Barram, has returned and Mrs. Crawford will return in August.

If any one has a rooted shrub that they can spare will they kindly notify some of the Veterans or member of W. C. T. U. see that they may be planted in the grounds near the railroad station. F. Norris.

COMMISSIONER BASS SCORES A BIG POINT IN FURTHERANCE OF STATE ROAD NO. 24

reconstructing the same, and the paving of the present blue foot road wherever needed. In order to place the county in position to carry out the work, should all holders come beyond the financial reach of the county, prices also will be obtained on the raw material, with a view of having the labor done by the county convicts. It was stated, should the emergency arise.

Therefore, with the St. Cloud-Kissimmee road widened and surfaced, as proposed and sanctioned by the Bass resolution, which was carried unanimously, and with the newly surveyed section of State Road No. 24 built from St. Cloud to the Inverness county line, the shortest cross-peninsula route for motor travel from all sections of west Florida, including central and south Florida, would be opened. This would give the builders of the newly surveyed St. Cloud-Kissimmee stretch a clear headway, as no detours of importance would interrupt the work of the contractors, due to the fact that present Kissimmee-St. Cloud road would be available.

As soon as the Kissimmee-to-St. Cloud road over the new survey is completed and opened to through travel it will further reduce the cross-peninsula distance as outlined above.

Other county road construction agreed upon and order was a five mile section from the far side of Goose Creek in Lake Kissimmee. This track is now used by all the fish companies and Pat Johnston stated that he expected to put in about forty acres of truck this fall, the products of which will come over the road. The county engineer was instructed to proceed with the acquisition of a hundred feet right of way.

Commissioner Bass presented a petition for a new road three quarters of a mile from Dakota and Vermont avenues in St. Cloud, on section line 10 and 11, township 20, range 30, to connect with the so-called Whittier road now running between sections 15, 22 and 23, township 20, range 30; and road superintendent Ashton was instructed to go ahead with the work. He was also ordered to grade Clyde Avenue, Kissimmee, from Mabette street to the Midland railway for the convenience of the new Citrus Exchange, using the county prisoners to do the work.

The clerk was further instructed to advertise for bids for the sale and removal of the Phipps house on the corner of Mabette and Bermuda, an account of the widening of Bermuda Avenue in connection with the new state road No. 2.

FLORIDA IS COMING BACK AND COMING BACK STRONG

WINTER PARK, Fla.—August 11—In an address at the weekly luncheon of the local chamber of commerce, held here yesterday, E. E. McGill, president of the Commercial Bank of Orlando, formerly the Bank of Orange, declared in no low terms that Florida is assured of a quick and permanent restoration of sound conditions.

"Florida is coming back," he said, "and coming back strong—stronger than some of us perhaps may imagine, and we of the solid central section may rest assured that when the pendulum swings back we will be in the forefront of the forward march of substantial and constructive development, which will be experienced in every section of the state."

Mr. McGill has been a visitor to Florida for a number of years, and recently decided to settle here. Soon afterward, and after the plan of reorganization of the Bank of Orange and Trust Company was accepted, he was named president of the reorganized institution, now known as the Orlando Commercial Bank. He still retains much interest in northern financial institutions. It is his constant contact with these, whereby he keeps a closer touch upon the pulse of northern capital, which, probably, caused him to court so strongly of brighter business ahead.

sons of her family resided.

At an early age, John decided to go west at the time of the gold fever. When he arrived at Chicago he was advised to remain where he was because of much suffering experienced by many returning. He finally settled in Wisconsin, Oseola and later at Madison.

In the '60s he answered his country's call, served in Co. K, 30th Wis. Vol. Was taken prisoner. Upon his return after the war, he farmed for awhile, then went into the grocery business and proved himself a shrewd business man. He finally sold out and went to North Dakota in the cattle business living there many years, and finally returned to Lamoni, Iowa. From there he came to St. Cloud, being one of the early pioneers here.

The Street of Permanent Beauty

HOW will your streets look five years—ten years—from today? Will they still be true and even-surfaced, and distinguished in appearance?

They will if they are paved with portland cement concrete, the material best suited to modern traffic requirements.

The concrete pavement is economical to build, costs least to maintain—and is safest, wet or dry.

COLORS CAN BE USED EFFECTIVELY TO COMBAT THE PESKY MOSQUITO

The Times-Journal of Melbourne, Fla., says a subscriber, F. E. Andrews, from far off Nebraska sends the following amusing comment on the pesky mosquito: "The mosquito season is with us. And as mosquito bites are always painful and irritating, and may also be very dangerous, here are some hints as to how to keep the pests away. "Tests have proved that certain colors attract mosquitoes and others repel them. On the trunk of a tree near a stagnant ditch various pieces of colored cloth were laid. "In an hour 110 mosquitoes alighted on the dark blue pieces, ninety on the black, and seventy-three on the brown and red pieces. But none went near the yellow cloth and only two sampled the light gray and pale green. "As the ankle is the favorite place of attack, it follows that men should avoid socks of dark blue, black or brown. If green or yellow are too startling, then white might be worn. Women's stockings, being light in color, are not popular with mosquitoes. "The color deterrent, however, does not apply in the dusk to the extent that it does in the day time. Then recourse must be had to the effect of scents. "Tests proved that paraffin was most hated by mosquitoes and midges, and eucalyptus was a good second. Peppermint was a good third. A small quantity of either dabbed on the ankles is effective. For the wrists and neck where something poisonous is required, lavender water in which a lump of camphor has been dissolved is best. "Armosia is also good, but it has to be renewed every hour or so. The "harvester" bug, found in sand and grass, won't bite your ankles if you dab them with a little camphorated oil.

An Anonymous Letter

We don't believe in anonymous communications ordinarily, but we are going to print this letter for the benefit of its writer and other girls. We suggest that it be clipped and mailed to all errand boy friends, for we know there are some things that can be answered better by other girls for their boy friends than by us. This letter, incidentally, might be considered a supplement to our article in answer to C. S.'s inquiry, "How to Win a Girl." And we think the boys will appreciate it, for while present-day uncles are undoubtedly badly spoiled, we don't believe there is one with a heart so dead that he never to himself hath said, "Gee, I want to be a popular with women. How can I be a knockout?"

Here is the answer.

I have any number of nice boy friends who seem to be trying to win me in the manner C. C. considers most effective—that is, by being indifferent. So I know what you I speak when I assure him that indifference will never get any man very far with an intelligent girl.

Every girl and woman living longs for attention—to be ever so appreciated, and, of course, they all want to be flattered and to be made love to.

But mere necking, petting, and general caveman stunts will soon wear out the latest girl's interest in a man.

There are many other ways of making love. Empty flattery doesn't go with all girls. It helps, of course, but being a mere shell will not satisfy the girl who has a brain beneath her boyish bob. Money? Well, it helps, but we all know girls who pass up the boy with the cash to step out gayly to the movies (or remain at home) with the poor but winsome boy who presents his single rose with flattering tenderness.

Boys, take it from one who knows—you can all knockouts with the ladies if you will only follow the most elementary rules of courtship. It's so simple to deal with women. All they ask are the things any man can learn to give.

Attention—that's what gets them. Indifference—never!

And the attentions need not be costly ones, either. There are any number of girls who would prefer sitting in the parlor all evening with a corsage of sweet peas than to step out to the most expensive cabaret in town. I personally am praying that I will receive one bouquet of flowers or one big box of candy before I get too old to enjoy it. You'll be surprised at what a few flowers will accomplish. Or a book or two of the sort everybody's reading. Or perhaps an occasional "surprise" note. A birthday present—(inexpensive book-ends, shoe buckles, subscription to a magazine, an artificial flower with the right note, a fleecy of perfume, etc.) for which you need spend no more than $2.00 to $3.00—and my, what a whale of a return you'll get.

A woman's need for consideration, thoughtfulness and tenderness is insatiable. Show an intelligent admiration for a girl and even though you are the most common-place man in the world, she will immediately discover in you innumerable good qualities. She will overlook your awkwardness, your lack of originality, your imperfect nose and the fatness of your arches.

Make love to her right and she is

GROTESQUE COLORS MARK WOMEN'S BALL GAME

AVON PARK, Fla.—A novelty in sporting events was staged here when teams composed of members of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Avon Park and Sebring clashed in a hot seven-inning base-ball contest. The Avon Park girls carried off the honors 20 to 17.

The colorful contest drew delegations of business women from Bradenton, Kissimmee and other points. It was the first exhibition of this kind ever attempted in this section.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barnard, postmaster of Tampa, was the umpire. The young women were uniformed in bloomers and red caps and white shirts. The Sebring girls wore dresses in white overall.

Following the game a banquet for the two teams was held at Sebring.

MANGO AND AVOCADO IN PLACE OF CITRUS FRUITS

Mr. W. H. Briggs, agricultural county agent, made a call on Walter F. Lindabury of Lotus, Florida, on July 13 last, to talk over the citrus, avocado and mango situation, and it was his advice, to those who could, to replace all citrus trees with the mango and avocado to get away from the overproduction of citrus fruit, and the poor market conditions. An average mango will weigh from 1 to 1 1/2 pounds and the price is around 25¢ a pound. In Miami the price of the Haden mango will average from $3 to $4 a dozen under normal conditions. As to the avocado, they average from $1 to $1.50 a dozen. When better known, the avocado will sell at a higher price as there is 25% of vegetable fat in the fruit. Sometimes the avocado will attain the size of from 1 to 4 pounds or over and they have sold in Miami for $2.50 each. Mr. Collins who built the bridge across Bluegrass Bay at Miami, had a grove of approximately 100 acres and before the hurricane wiped it away, he received one February $70 for one crate sold in New York City. At the present time the price is $2.00 a pound locally. This, as is readily seen, could be made a good paying crop to those who have sufficient frost protection, such as growers on Merritt Island, the Peninsula and south of Miami Beach, as avocados are more susceptible to cold than are citrus fruits.

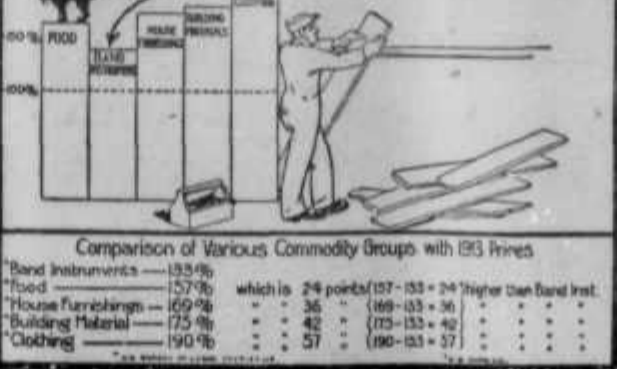

It is within the power of the citrus growers to change the situation as to citrus fruits, if they would all cooperate and join the Citrus Exchange, the only selling organization operated by the growers at the present time. However, the suggestion of Mr. Briggs is worth looking into.

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER"

That birds of a feather will flock together has been literally proven, according to a front page dispatch to the New York World. The dispatch says Arthur R. Weeks, of Meriden, Conn., owner of a bungalow at Lake Ponchartraine set a hen on eight quail eggs. All hatched. The quail which laid the eggs had been hovering near during the incubation process and soon after the baby quails were out the real mother bird lured them from the brooding hen.

will depend upon your ability to psycho-analyze the particular woman and upon the skill with which you suggest to her that you are the great unsatisfied need of her soul. But when the right girl comes along, you'll forget all about "system"—and set out to win her according to the dictates of your heart.

MUSIC BELOW OTHER COSTS

MUSIC CHEAPER THAN FOOD OR CLOTHING, SURVEY SHOWS

ELKHART, Ind., July 18.—Music is cheaper than food, clothing, home furnishings, and building materials.

This striking situation in the present day intensive selling battle in the industrial world was revealed by C. D. Greenleaf, president of G. C. Conn. Ltd., before a national convention of music men here. He gave the results of a statistical comparison on the cost of band instruments with other commodities which showed that instruments are selling today at lower prices as compared with the 1913 cost than practically any other commodity.

"A study of the cost of musical instruments as compared with other articles shows that while band instruments are now selling at 135, in comparison with 1913, food is up to 157, home furnishings at 169, building materials at 175 and clothing at 190," said Mr. Greenleaf. "This means that when a customer pays a dollar for musical instruments, he is paying 24 points less than when he spends the same amount for food, 36 points less than for home furnishings, 42 points less than for building materials and 57 points less than for clothing."

"The reason people are not spending more for music is not because of the price. That is clear. The income of the American people is estimated at $85,000,000,000 which they are spending for the things they have been led to think they want most. Just think of the hundreds of millions of dollars absorbed by radio, automatic refrigeration and other things scarcely heard of a few years ago. Everyone in the United States attends a movie on the average of at least once a week. Figures show, and if people of the United States were to increase their expenditure for band instruments by the amount of the price of one movie admission a year, the band instrument industry would become five times the size it is today."

FINISH THE RATS

The Department of Agriculture says rats are probably decreasing in numbers in the United States. Present-day sanitary requirements and modern building are having their effect. But in spite of all that has been done, the rat is still man-kind's greatest enemy in the animal world. The department has just issued a new bulletin on Rat Control. It's Farmers' Bulletin No. 1533-E. It points out that you should rat-proof all new buildings. Close all openings through which rats can gain entrance. Remove all shelter for rats. Promptly dispose of all garbage, trash, and other waste on which rats can feed. Kill the rats!

HAVE ANOTHER DISH!

The estimated production of ice cream in the United States during 1910 was only 95,450,000 gallons, but for 1926 it was 324,005,900 gallons, an increase in 16 years of 340 per cent. The industry employs more than 50,000 persons and pays out in salaries more than $75,000,000 a year.

APPLE CROP GROWN WITH SUCCESS NEAR MINEOLA

CLERMONT, Aug. 5.—Horticulturists and the public generally will be interested to learn that apples are being successfully grown in the Clermont community. I. J. Snary, whose home faces Lake Minneola, having a crop of several bushels of choice red Astrachians, which he is now marketing. Mr. Snary has been a resident of this community for about six years and during that time has carried on much experimental work in agriculture and horticulture and his success in producing the red Astrachians is the result of grafting buds sent down from the north to the native soil. The budding in some manner has produced a seedling, and so far not one seed has been found in the entire crop, of the many used for pies and table purposes.

Another peculiarity of the red Astrachian is that the apples grow in clusters. One of the greatest drawbacks to the apple crop, declares Mr. Snary, is that the birds make frequent and regular raids on the tree, but aside from this he is of the opinion that proper culture and care might make the apple another Florida crop.
